The Conspiracy of Bristow Against Grant's Administration.

NEW REVELATIONS ANTICIPATED.

Attorney General Taft's Instructions to the Marshals.

A CONSULTATION AT THE WAR DEPARTMENT

Troops Ordered to Move on South Carolina.

PROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4, 1876. THE ALLEGED CONSPIRACY OF GENERAL BRIS-TOW AGAINST PRESIDENT GRANT-NEW REVE-

LATIONS PROMISED. The evidence of a conspiracy against the reputation of General Grant and his administration on the part of the late Secretary Bristow and his friends is taking such shape that even those heretofore most incredulous are coming to change their opinions. A new interest has been given to the subject by the recent free expressions of the President to the representative of the HERALD, and a carefully prepared statement of the whole matter, including the voluntary testimony of one of the parties to the conspiracy, has recently been submitted to the members of the Cabinet, which leaves no room for doubt in the premises. One of the principal officials in charge of the secret service, comes forward and gives of his own accord the details, step by step, of the plan which was decided upon to pull down President Grant and advance the claims of Mr. Bristow for the Presidential candidacy. All this has been reduced to a certainty by his statement, which has been corroborated fully. One member of the Cabinet, feeling perhaps, more kindly than the others to ex-Secretary

Bristow, says:"While the whole thing may bear this coloring, yet It may have actually originated with 'the sanguine exectations and overdone zeal of the near personal friends of ex-Secretary Bristow."

But at this period all room for so generous a considpration has been swept away and the facts are sooner or later to go to the people. The President is no party to the plan of divulging what has now so long slept in his bosom, but he will not hesitate to declare his conviction at the proper time that a most insidious and astonishing attack was made upon his reputation in the house of his triends' All the facts will be shortly given, and the President will leave the country to judge of their enormity.

GENERAL WASHINGTON DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4, 1876. THE INSTRUCTIONS OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL TO UNITED STATES MARSHALS BEGARDING COMING ELECTIONS-PREPARATIONS AT THE WAR DEPARTMENT TO CARRY THEM OUT-CHAMBERLAIN AND PATTERSON ASSISTING IN THE DELIBERATIONS.

The following are the instructions from the Attorney General to United States marshals regarding the coming elections. A copy will be sent to each United States marshal throughout the country :-

Sim—The laws of the United States having made it my duty to exercise general direction over the marshals as to the manner of discharging their offices, I have prepared for their use this circular letter of instructions as to the coming elections, intending the same also as a reply, once for all, to numerous applications in like connection from private citizens in various States.

States occupy a position toward voters and voting which varies according at the election is for state and with the varies according at the election is for state and with varies according at the elections at which members of the House of Representatives are chosen, which by law include elections at which members of the House of Representatives are chosen, which by law include elections at which the elections for Prendent and vice Prendent are appointed, the United States secure voters against whatever is general brickive includes and the Prendent are alike to the Prendent and vice the Children of the tant that you and your deputies shall in this connection read and consider. In matters of doubt you are, of course, entitled to the advice of the United States At-torney for your district.

These instructions have been submitted to the Presi-dent and have his approval. Very respectfully your obedient servant, ALPHONSO TAFT, Attorney General, There was a lengthy conference at the War Depart ment this morning previous to issuing the order to the United States marshals in regard to the approaching election. It was attended by Secretaries Cameron, lobeson and Chandler, Attorney General Taft, General Sherman, Governor Chamberlain and Senator Patterwas to take preparatory steps to carry out the order, in case of necessity, and have a full understanding as to the military giving aid to the United States mar-

After a very free exchange of views upon the subect, during which Governor Chamberlain and Senator Patierson urged the necessity of military protection in the South, the members of the Cabinet present exressed their opinions at length, and also the desires of the President upon that topic. It was finally decided that a copy of the circular letter of instructions of the Attorney General be referred to General Shorman for his information and guidance. He will, therefore, immediately issue a general order for the information of the army, in which will be published in full the instructions of the Attorney General. In case of disturbance the marshal need only call upon the military officer in command, and a proper military force will be furnished to him without delay. Governor Chamberlain came to Washington by the invitation of the Attorney General and the Secretary of War, to confer with them in regard to affairs in South Carolina and to secure a fair election in that State. It has been represented that there are eight or ten counties where republicans are intimidated from prosecuting the canvass, and apprehensions are expressed that many of them will be prevented from voting on the day of election. Governor Chamberlain, after the instructions of the Attorney General to the United States marshal were read, expressed the hope that they would be sufficient to secure the end desirednamely, a free exercise of the elective franchise, not only in South Carolina but in other Southern States. without a resort to the military as the posse comitatus. The greatest danger to elective franchise is feared in South Carolina, and hence that State is more particularly subject to attention. Troops will be stationed at the points of the threatened difficulty, so as to be employed in case of necessity, which, it is hoped, will not the strongest ever issued from the Department of Justice with regard to elections, and the Secretary of War is in strong accord with the Attorney General for their

PRINTING THE NEW BONDS.

The work of printing the new bonds continues in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the force being employed night and day in order to have them ready for the Syndicate without any delay. Already bonds amounting to $10,000,000 have been completed and handed in to the Secretary's office for the necessary additional work in that and other divisions of the departments. They will probably be shipped to the syndicate in the course of two or three days.

A BURNED TOWN.

DETAILS OF THE DISASTROUS FIRE AT ST. HYA-CINTHE, CANADA-SIX HUNDRED HOUSES DE-STROYED-FOUR THOUSAND PROPLE HOME-

MONTREAL, Sept. 4, 1876. A terrible conflagration has almost swept the prosperous town of St. Hyacinthe out of existence. The disaster is far more extensive than that which recently destroyed the neighboring town of St Johns; the loss is more widespread and the hardship far more severe. The fire began shortly after one o'clock yesterday morning in a wooden shed at the rear of the Courier printing office and was caused by avy wind the flames spread with dreadful rapidity. The local fire brigades soon arrived, but water was introduction of new pumping engines. For two hours the people looked on helplessly, while house after louse and street alter street became a prey to the flames, which rising high in the air were carried in every direction by the surging wind. Men, women and children tion by the surging wind. Men, women and children flew distractedly about the streets striving to save a few valuables, but the crowd were inexorably driven back by the advancing fire.

CALLING FOR HELP.

It soon became evident that unless more help was at hand the town was doomed. Assistance was telegraphed for from Montreal, Levis, Acton and Richmond. Montreal responded by sending a steam fire engine and six men. Levis and Quebec each sent a steamer. Acton and Richmond sent pumps and volunteers.

BISORDER AND VIOLENCE.

But in the meantime, before help arrived, the scene was a terrible one. Confusion, terror and dismay reigned and the authorities were imbecile and powerless. Houses were torn down to stay the pregress of the flames, and property was sacrificed recklessly. Robbery was rampant and violence in some instances rife. The people were too Terror was a three was consequently as much stolen as burned, and many who came to help remained to steal. In the scramble for goods and plunder three fire engines were deserted and burnt. When the firemen from Montreal arrived there was a long stretch of flames, extending the whole length of the flames and brought the conflagration under control.

The total loss is estimated at about $1.500.001. About 600 houses have been swept away and about 4,000 people are homeless.

There is not a takery, grocery, dry goods store or shop of any kind re manning in the town.

HUNGER AND DISTRESS.

There is not a bakery, grocery, dry goods store or shop of any kind re maining in the town.

RUNGER AND DISTRESS.

There is no food in the place and the prospects of the inhabitants are dismal indeed.

This morning a bread train was sent from Montreal, reaching St. Hyacinthe, fitteen and a half miles, in thirty-two minutes. Bread and food have also been received from Acton and Richmond, and the Montreal bakers are rushing up supplies.

PATAL RISULT.

Of casualties there are several to report. A woman with two children was burned to death, and a man killed by being run over. Another man in hospital was fatally injured.

BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

The principal buildings destroyed are the Merchants' Bank, Town Hall, St. Hyacinthe's Bank, Montreal Telegraph office, Cote & Co's shoe factory and Victor's tannery.

The whole business portion of the town is swept away.

The insurance is distributed between the London, National, New York, North British, Commercial, Union, Royal Canadian and Stadacona.

FIFTEEN HOUSES DE TROYED.

Pirrissung, Pa., Sept. 4, 1876.
A fire at Mansfield, Allegheny county, Pa., at one o'clock this morning, destroyed fifteen houses on the main street, including the American Hotel, Burgand's Bank, J. Waidre's butcher shop, Heil's saddlery shop, A. A. Adams' drug store and A. McNeil's dry goods store. The loss is variously estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000. The amount of the insurance is unknown.

MILLS AND LUMBER CONSUMED.

TYRONE, Pa , Sept 4, 1876.
A fire near Bigler, Pa , last might destroyed Hoover, Harris & Co. w steam sawmill, two dwellings and quantity of lumber. The loss in $25,000.

AN ALBANY JUNE HOUSE IN PLAMES.

ALEANY, N. Y., Sept. 4, 1876.

John Murtaugh's junk house, at No. 50 Quay street, was destroyed by fire to-night. Loss, $10,000. In-stred in Lacy's Agency.

AMUSEMENTS.

The usual variety performance was given at this house last night. A few new features were introduced, among them being a pontomimic sketch called "Jim Jams," in which Robert Butler and Master Martin ap-Jams," in which Robert Butler and Master Martin appeared. The entertainment ended with a "beautiful domestic drama" called "The Idiot Friend," and a very identic play it is. Mr. George R. Edsson in the title role was good, as was also Mass McAllister as the heroise; but Mr. J. R. Gusmer, as Colonel Martin, the hero, attired in a slouch hat which descended over his cars, and an old army coat much too big for him, was evidently ill at case and unhappy, and the audience sympathotically shared in his embarrassments. An abendance of abduction, kidnapping and promiscuous crimes certainly prevent the charge of insipidity being brought against the piece, in which, by the way, we think we recognize an old friend with a new name.

EAGLE THEATER

The storm last night had a perceptible effect on this house, though an attractive bill was given. The farce "Turn Him Out" opened the night's entertainment Mr. John Allen followed in his songs and dances, and received hearty encores, and the new Irish specialties of Mr. Bradley were also a feature of the night's programme. The burlesque of "Blue Jackets," with Miss Barion Fiske. Miss Branscombe, Miss Gorento, and Messrs, Wild, Sheidon and Riehmond in the cast, concluded the night's entertainment.

The great attraction at this house last night was the pectscelar drama of "The Ice Witch," which was strongly cast, well played and finely mounted. Miss strongly cast, well played and finely mounted. Mass
Liza Weber has a good part and was well received; so was Miss Polly Booth and Miss Sonhie Miles, and mother old favorite of this house, Miss Agrie Wood, was also welcomed when she appeared on the boards.
Mesers Fitzgerald, Ward, Stewart and Charles helped to make the cast strong, and Hernandez Foster was as sprightly a demon as one need wish to witness.
Everything passed off well, and "The Ice Witch" may be regarded as a success.

THEATRE COMIQUE.

Messrs. Harrigan & Hart gave a good show, with plenty of variety and fun, last night to please their patrons. The Irish sketch of "S. O. T." took well, patron?. The Irish sketch of "S. O. T." took well, Miss Adah Richmond pleased in her ballads and Billy Carter made his banjo ring to the delight of his listeners. The original drama of "Down in Dixie," in which Harrigan and Hart appeared, brought the performance to a close, all the company appearing and joining in the old plantation songs of life down South in the days before the war.

These rollicking troubadours last night followed the HERALD'S advice, and like a lot of discontented Irishmen returned to cork. That is, they again blacked their face; and, like the Hibernians referred to, they evidently felt at home once more. The bill presented to the small audience which strengtled through the rain was of the usual varied character and the musical portion of it though not entirely new was highly pleasing. "Two Men Behind the Bar" contains no aliusion whatever to the play whose name it suggests. The feature of the performance last night, however, was a new burlesque invented "after centuries of patient thought and untiring study," and called "Sir Dan O'Pallas, Chief of the Assyrian Jim-Jama." The scenery and properties of this are a sight to behold. Mirth-provoking animals are the Irish (not Assyrian) bulls; the sculptured hetroglyphics would make an Oriental scholar open his eyes, and as for the "Snow Shovellers" Billet!"—well, it is happy for the fame of Sardanapalus that he never saw it, for, if he loved laughter half as much as history records he did, be never could have survived the performance, to perish heroically amidst the ruins of his palace. returned to cork. That is, they again blacked their BROOKLYN THEATRE Miss Minnie Palmer appeared at this theatre last night in a new drama, entitled "Kisses." Despite the storm Miss Palmer was greeted by a large audience. the play was styled on the bills as a serio-comic drama, but the incidents were by no means comic. The plot is threadbare, and possesses no features of interest or power. Talip (M.ss Palmer) is in love with the disguised and prolligate son of a Marquis (Mr. Phillips), whase second wife loves an advocate (Mr. Aylunn. Henri, the son (Mr. Plympton), endeavors to win the village beauty, who, discovering his false love, flees to the Marquis for protection and to save her aged father from want. The son follows her to the chateau, where a series of perplexing events occur and the Marquis commits suicide because his wife is about to clope with the advocate. Talip is accused of murder by her lover, and, being convicted, is sentenced to the stake. She is finally saved by the discovery of a prayer book, in which the suicide is explained. There is a rustic lover who does a great deal of mischlef and tries to be funny at times. Why the piece is named "Kisses" is a mystery, for there are few kisses exchanged, the personages being more inclined to tears than anything else. In fact, it looks as though the author had selected a few odd pages from old dramas, and, having pinned them together, tried to make them hinge. Miss Palmer is overweighted by the part of Tulip, and none of the other characters are constained or infecental century slang, and the scene is laid in the days of Louis XV., the effect being anything but pleasing. The acting of Miss Palmer shows that she possesses talent, while Miss Mary Davenport does all that is possible with the character assigned her. Messra Plympton, Aytoun, Phillips and Seymour deserve credit for their efforts to breath life into the parts they were intrusted with, and it is not their fault if the piece was not a success. The lact that all the action covers several weeks and that the piece begins and ends with a Maypole will give a clew to the incongruous elements thrown together by the dramatist. The play was styled on the bills as a serio-comic drama, but the incidents were by no means comic. The plo

MRS. ROCHE'S CASE.

The case of Mrs. Roche, which was reported in yesterday's HERALD under the caption of "Hard Working Women," seems to require a slight modification. Mr. Herbert, who is quoted as saying she is a hard working woman, reiterates the assertion, but denies that he is the landioru of the premises.

"OFFICIAL" KNOWLEDGE BOXES.

NEW YORE, Sept. 4, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-Now that we have Governor Seymour's word for it that he has given a letter to Mr. Magone in which he formally declines the democratic nomination for Governor, is it not in order for certain members of the ernor, is it not in order for certain members of the Democratic National Committee to explain their course during the past few days? It is all the more imperatively demanded from the fact that Governor Tilden is the moving spirit of the committee, as he is of the State Central Committee.

Can the committee satisfactorily answer why Mr. Andrews, a sub-secretary of the committee, over his own signisture as secretary announced on Saturday that he had official knowledge that Governor Seymour had accepted?

Can Mr. King, another of the sub-secretaries, explain why, the evening before (Friday), he stated to the members of the press that Finley, the messenger from Saratoga to Mr. Hewitt, the chairman of the committee, had, to his (King's) own positive knowledge, a message not only conveying the official acceptance of the nomination by Governor Seymour, but a statement from the latter that he would in a week, it necessary, begin to stump the State for Tilden? Beside, Mr. King staled that the interview with Governor Seymour and the Hanato correspondent at Utica was a "sheer labrication"—in other words, that it never took place.

Why all these attempts to mislead? DEMOCRAT.
